Perry Belmont's Colt, With a Feather on Covering the Last Mile in 1:40 4-5 -Red Knight Defeats Col. Bill.

Hermis, the $60,000 horse owned by E. R. Thomas, was beaten again yesterday at Gravesend, but under extenuating circum-Over a track that was sticky and sloppy, Hermis was vanquished by Perry Belmont's three year-old colt River Pirate, who, with a feather on his back, ran a mile and a sixteenth in the wonderfully fast time of 1:47 1-5. River Pirate led all the way, covering the first half mile in 0:47 3-5; the five furlongs in 1:00 3-5, the three quarters in 1:13 4-5, and the mile in 1:40 4 5. He ran the last mile in 1:40 4-5, winning in a drive by three parts of a length. Taking into consideration the fact that such going was never to Hermis's liking. the $60,000 horse ran creditably, although naturally his defeat was a big disappointment to his owner and the public at large. Hermis, too, could not be said to be at his best. He seeds racing and plenty of it before the best results can be obtained and, in spite of is downfall, turfmen after the race were ready to declare that in due time Mr. Thomas's crack thoroughbred would come to hand in Hermis was entered in the second race, which was for horses that had run and not von at the present Gravesend meeting, with allowances. Hermis got in at 106 pounds, with a twenty-pound allowance for not winning $700, and the form players were ready to grab any kind of a price. He opened at 1 to 3 and closed at 2 to 7 River Pirate, accepting maiden allowance, took up 91 pounds and met Hermis at even weights according to the scale. He was backed liberally at 4 to because of his light impost and his well-known ability to revel in the mud. Stamping Ground was the only other starter, there being six withdrawals, including Waterboy and Carbunele. Rice had the mount on Hermis, while Callahan rode River Pirate instead of Hicks.

No sooner was the barrier raised than River Pirate rushed off at a terrific pace. Callahan sat still and steered him as straight as a die along the rails. Rice, taking hold of Hermis, sat still and steered him as straight as a die along the rails. Rice, taking hold of Hermis, trailed behind a length away, with Stamping Ground out of it as they entered the back stretch. The clockers were busy all along the lines and, as furlong after furlong was covered in phenomenal time, predictions were freely made that Hermis would be beaten. Rice began to ride Mr. Thomas's horse on the far turn, believing that River Pirate would come back to him, but simultaneously Callahan went to work with Mr. Belmont's colt, who increased his speed as her unshed into the stretch.

Hermis struggled gamely to get up under a hard ride, but River Pirate held his own. Then Rice drew his whip and put Hermis under the gaff. The great horse swerved over to the rails and came on pluckily, the crowd roaring encouragement with every stride. Hermis gained some ground opposite the betting ring, but River Pirate held his own, as the proposition of the cover of a well-folded roll. Don't want it: was the meek reply when the old fellow came around to cash he looked the layer in the eye and said.

Don't want it: was the meek reply when the old fellow came around here like you? It's a shame to take the money! Then he stuffed his money into his pocket and bought a piece of pie and a glass of milk.

In spite of the disagreeable weather there was a crowd of 10,000 at the track. Scratches were numerous, and five favorites were bowled over in the most heart-rending manner. Long shots continually got into the money enabling the layers to put a harvest of gold away in their leather satchels. The $\frac{3}{2}\frac{1}{2}\f nerce drive the latter overhauled both leaders and won in a rattling finish by a length and a half, Col. Bill beating Herbert by a head. The time was 1:46 4-5, the last mile being run the time was 1.33.

The sport opened with a knock down for the big bettors who accepted 1 to 3 against Mrs. Frank Farrell's The Musketeer, for the Masetto horse was in badhumor, kicked up at the post in a fit of sulks and chucked it up in the first furlong, which was run in 0:11. Ascension, second choice at fives, was the winner by two lengths and a half, with Invasion, 40 to 1, second, a length and a half before Brixton, 100 to 1, who beat the favorite by a head. An accident at the post was a telling high head. The time was 1:12 3-5.

An accident at the post was a telling blow for those who made Bath Beach favorite in the Hanover Stakes, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs. As the barrier went up Bath Beach, who was on the outside, bore in and bumped into Miss Nancy and cut bore in and bumped into Miss Nancy and cut her down in such a manner that she may never race again. O'Neil hustled Bath Beach after his field and took the lead at the turn, but the effort was too great and the colt stopped to nothing. The winner turned up in R. W. Walden's Luminosity, by Albert—Luminous, a 50 to 1 shot, who came home in a drive a length and a half before the Goughacres Stables' Latheron, 40 to 1, the latter a head better than Greencrest, third choice. T. D. Sullivan's Setauket, the favorite, failed to win the fifth race at a mile and a sixteenth. Locket, 60 to 1, rushed to the front and had a lead of six lengths rounding the far turn. Then he backed up and Haack, skinning the rail with R. T. Bullman rode her and caught Sydney Paget's Inquisitive Girl, the pacemaker, at the last furlong pole. Mordella having a length and a half over Lida Leib, a full sister to Banastar, who dinished strongly and beat Sir Walt, 20 to 1, by two lengths and a half. Haack rode two winners.

Albert then and there, as Owner Walden did not have a representative at the rail to protect her. It was said afterward that Walden did not care to retain Luminosity, as she is believed to have weak ankles. Daly's Locket, at 60 to 1, ran third in the fifth event, the Sage of Hartford having his usual bet of $5 on the Halma colt to show.

After a suspension of five days for rough riding, Fuller resumed riding again yesterday, only to be set on the ground for to-day because he took a deliberate run at the barrier in the Hanover Stakes with Nameoki. He was also fined $50 as an additional punishment for this offence.

There was a rumor after the races that the stewards had fined Jockey Rice $100 for being over weight in the fifth race.

Dave Johnson was among the big plungers who backed Hermis. He dropped $15.000.

Redfern had his first mount since he broke his collar bone at Aqueduct, on E. R. Thomas's Vagary in the Hanover Stakes. As soon as he emerged from the paddock gate the crowd broke into applause. There was a similar greeting for Builman in the last race, as it was his first mount since his experience with his pacing stallion a week ago.

No decision had been reached in regard to Irish Lad's trip to Chicago late yesterday afternoon, but it was said that the matter would be settled to-day. Herman B. Duryes, part owner of the colt, held a long confab with John W. Rogers and John E. Madden in the paddock during the races.

An old man with gold-rimmed spectacles went up to a bookmaker in the dead line just before the third race and wagered $2 on Luminosity at 40 to 1.

WILLING TO RETIRE. However, Mid-Season Is Bad Time to Talk of Consolidating Two Major Organizations, Says Pulliam-Will Have Injurious Effect-John T. Brush's Views. Harry Clay Pulliam, president of the National League, whose administration to date has been competent and impartial, gave out the following statement yesterday regarding the proposed amalgamation of the National and American baseball leagues:

"If the majority of the National League club owners desire a consolidation of interests with the American League it meets with my hearty approval; and if this can be brought about only by the election of Mr. Johnson as head of the combined organizations, I will gladly cooperate to that end. My tenure of office is for only one year and expires next of omce is for only one year and expires next

December, and at that time I will gladly efface myself from the baseball map. Or, if Mr. Herrmann's views are those of the National League and the occasion for consolidation is urgent, I will willingly facilitate matters by resigning at any time before solidation is urgent. I will willingly facilitate matters by resigning at any time before my term of office expires. I accepted the office of president of the National League only at the solicitation of the club owners, and my only desire and object has been to serve the best interests of the National League; and if the best interest of the National League; and if the best interest of the National League; and if the best interest of the National League; lie in a consolidation with the American League, I will gladly cooperate to that end. "In my brief career as president I have tried to elevate the game, have gone in for clean baseball, and am willing to quit at any time and be judged by my record.

"Iregret very much, however, that this talk of consolidation has been advanced in midseason, as I fear it will be fatal to the best interests of both organizations during the remainder of the playing season. It brings into prominence the politics of the game and sacrifices the artistic or playing department. From now on the politicians will have control of the diamond and the players be sent to the background. If a consolidation is to take place, it can't come any too soon to end this state of affairs."

John T. Brush, president of the New York Nationals, is back from the West. "I am satisfied with present conditions," he said yesterday. "Whenever anybody mentioned consolidation to Ban Johnson or to anybody else who was boosting the American League it was like flaunting a red flag at a bull.

"Johnson's cornerstone has been that there was room in this country for two big leagues, and it's rather queer to hear talk of consolidation, ostensibly by the American League leader."

Miss Bessie Moore Wins Singles for Women in Metropolitan Championships.

Play was continued in the West Side Tennis Club tournament, yesterday, on the club courts, 116th street and Amsterdam avenue. Bad weather again interfered with fast work. The competitors for the Metropolitan cham-pionship have played under adverse conditions since the tourney was started, on Monday. It is now out of the question to finish this week. One event was concluded yesterday, Miss Bessie Moore defeating Miss Margaret Johnson for final honors in the ladies' singles. This match went to the former American champion, two sets to one. The opening set went to Miss Moore 6-4. A strong rally by Miss Johnson brought her on even terms. In the dealing set, however, Miss Moore took six straight games and

90-FOOTERS RIDE OUT STORM. Three Yachts Ready to Race Again-No

The 90-footers, Reliance, Constitution and Columbia, are now on the Sound waiting for their next contest, which is to be sailed on Monday. On Thursday night after the last race off the Hook the wind blew half a gale and it was necessary to put out an extra anchor on each yacht. The storm lasted until nearly 12 o'clock in the day, but when anchor on each yacht. the worst had passed over lines were passed to the tugs and the racing fleet passed up the harbor through the East River and Hell Gate to the Sound. The Reliance was in tow of the Guiding Star, followed by the Gate to the Sound. The Reliance was in tow of the Guiding Star, followed by the tender Sunbeam and the launch Sunbeam went to New Rochelle. The Constitution, with her tender. Satellite, and the canalboat Moonstone, and the Columbia, with her tender. Park City, and the steam launch Vanish, went to Glen Cove.

The regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club has not considered the protests yet, but decisions will be rendered in a few days. There is the protest of the Constitution and Columbia made during one of the races on the Sound. Each yacht has made a protest. The Columbia protested the Constitution for forcing her about at the line when the Columbia was on the starboard tack, and the Constitution protested the Columbia for bearing down on her while maneuvring for the start and forcing the Constitution and Reliance to give way to avoid a foul.

The second protest was made after the race on Thursday. Mr. Iselin has protested the Constitution and Mr. Belimout has protested the Reliance. This time they fouled each other, and if there had been more wind, or if the sea had been rough, the consequences might have been serious.

The foul occurred about six minutes after the preparatory signal had been made. The Reliance and Constitution were to windward of the line, heading about south southwest on the port tack. The Reliance had the weather position. Neither yacht was close hauled on the wind. The Constitution hauled on the wind and began to forereach on the Reliance, which bore off a little, and then both wore round and ran back for the line with sheets trimmed in flat. The committee has a hard question to settle in this protest and some thought will be given to it before a decision is rendered. Polo.

GOLFERS PLAY IN THE RAIN. SECOND DAY OF THE TOURNA-

MENT AT KNOLLWOOD CLUB. Travis Consistent Despite the Weather -Fine Work by Graham, the Fairfield Junior-Heyt Beats Moller in Semi-Final-Women's Team Matches Off.

Rain bothered the golfers in the morning ment vesterday, and there were two defaults in the consolation cup, but the president's cup set drove off like true water dogs. The grass, which is always in luxuriance at Knollwood, stiffened in the wet and killed not soggy and, barring the early downfall clubhouse was a jolly haven between the nearby country houses joined the players

Travis in the morning found Mallouf an easy victim, for the Cornell player seems to go off utterly on his driving whenever he meets the Garden City crack. Graham, a schoolboy from Fairfield, put out Butts of he Yale team without being pushed; Hoyt, the Maine champion, proved somewhat match, beat Croker on the home green. Moller also had a close match on Thursday, only winning on the twentieth hole, and is displaying the best game of his career on the M. G. A. links. In the afternoon, however, latter coming home in 36.

Travis's consistency was superior to the climatic conditions. In the match with the cards were:

VARIABLE CRICKET AT OXFORD. Philadelphians Go to Pleces After Leading University in First Innings.

Special Cable Despaich to THE SUN.

OXFORD, June 12.—The Philadelphia cricketers, who began a match against Oxford University yesterday, continued the same here to-day on a soft and treacherous wicket, which was responsible for rather an extraordinary score. The visitors gained a good lead of 124 runs on the first inning, but they have done so badly in their second attempt that this advantage may be considered attempt that this advantage hay be considered wiped out.

The game was full of incidents of an interesting nature, but the chief feature of the play was certainly the bowling of J. B. King, who had the creditable record of 8 wickets for 29 runs. E. G. Whateley accomplished the "hat trick" for Oxford in the Philadelphians' second innings, when he captured the wickets of F. H. Bohlen, N. Z. Graves and H. A. Haines in consecutive balls. R. C. W. Burn also bowled with extraordinary success in this inning.

of F. H. Bohlen, N. Z. Graves and H. A. Haines in consecutive balls. R. C. W. Burn also bowled with extraordinary success in this inning.

When play was resumed this morning, C. C. Morris was quickly disposed of before he had added a run to his overnight score of 30. N. Z. Graves, however, gave splendid assistance to J. B. King in the run-getting, and put on 24 by steady play. King hit freely for 47, and J. A. Lester played in his usually firm style for 35. A. M. Wood and R. D. Brown also got into the double-figure list, while H. A. Haines hit out vigorously for 20, not out. With the total at 214, the visitors felt satisfied with themselves for they knew the Oxonians would find run-getting no easy matter on the difficult wicket.

Still they were greatly surprised at the manner in which the wickets went down. Before 3) was up, five men had been disposed of by J. B. King, who was found almost unplayable by the home team. B. L. Peel and C. D. Molver made a short stand, but when they were separated, the rest of the men yielded easily and the inning was over for a total of 90. Peel strove hard to keep up the run-getting, but he was at length caught by King off his own bowling for 35.

With a lead of 124 runs in the first innings, the Philadelphians went in for their second turn at the bat, feeling highly elated. A series of disasters marked the opening of their innings, however, for they quickly lost F. H. Bohlen, N. Z. Graves and H. A. Haines. C. C. Morris stayed for a while, but J. B. King and A. M. Wood soon yielded. The bowling of E. G. Whately and R. C. W. Burn had the men completely tied up. P. H. Clark was the first man to stop the rout after 6 wickets had fallen before the first decade went up. In the company of J. A. Lester, he made a useful stand and put on a welcome 24 before he was bowled. Lester had scored 8, not out, and there were seven wickets down for 42 runs when play ceased for the day.

The match will be continued to-morrow when Lester will have to rely upon R. D. Brown, F. H. Bates and T. C. Jor

BOWLING ANALYSIS. GENTLEMEN OF PHILADELPHIA. OXFORD UNIVERSITY. Wickets. Runs. P. H. Clark.... TITUSS ENTRY REJECTED.

Henley Stewards Decline to Recognize Oarsmen Indorsed by Mayor Low. The entry of C. S. Titus of the Atalanta B. C. for the Diamond Sculls at Henley, has been returned to the secretary of the Na-tional Association of Amateur Oarsmen tional Association of Amateur Oarsmen by the Henley stewards. In accordance with Rule X. of the general rules no reason was offered for the rejection of the entry but it may be inferred that Titus got engaged in too many alteroations with rowing clubs on this side of the water lately.

Titus went across last year and made a good showing until he met F. S. Kelly the Oxonian. As Kelly and Etherinston Smith, the runner-up to Kelly will be absentees this this year it was believed that the Atalanta man had a good chance to land the "Diamond." He is in good form and had his ticket purchased to sail on June 17. No word has been received that the entries of Juvenal and Scholes will pass muster. Tituss' entry was indorsed by Mayor Low and the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Will Lay Steel Tracks on Docks.

Steel roads are to be experimented with by the New York Dock Department on the dumping dock at the foot of Canal street. Four hundred feet of steel rails, the same as those now in Murray street, were obtained by the Dock Commissioner from the steel miss and that was all he could buy, but 200 feet more were presented by the Automobile Club of America, out of the gift it received from President Schwab of the Steel Corporation. The rails are not to be laid on the incline for the refuse carts, but on the upper end of the dock where the coal carts load from the barses. The planks do not stand the wear well and it is believed the steel rails will save them. dumping dock at the foot of Canal street.
